Hello, we do hope that you are all keeping well and staying safe.

Some of you have had a go at 'Bucket Time' after watching the Gina Davies videos. You may have run into a few problems and have some questions. Here is the next video from Gina Davies explaining what to do when things get tricky.

At school your child has learnt to anticipate what is going to happen next at Bucket Time. In the next video, Gina Davies explains how you could adapt this approach to use at home.

Now that the weather is getting warmer, some of you may be embarking on helping your child to make the transition from nappies to using a potty or a toilet.

Using a visual timetable can help your child understand what is going to happen next and the order in which this is going to happen.

The Twinkl website provides lots of useful resources including visual timetables for various home routines.

Visit their site and type in 'visual timetables using the toilet'.

Singing Hands

Singing Hands are a singing duo, who have released a number of DVD's and can also be found on YouTube. They each have a child with additional needs. They use Makaton signing when performing songs and rhymes, including some that your children will be familiar with, as well as other popular music. These are a brilliant way to improve your signing and help your child, at the same time!

They have organised a programme of events across the week on either YouTube or by Zoom and your child may find these entertaining.
