How is this family different from your own family? How many people are in your family? Who do you love so so much?

Create a booklet all about your family! Can you name the people in your family and write sentences about them? Who are they? What do you call them? What do they like or dislike? Why are they special to you?

★ Don't forget to use capital letters for family names, full stops at the end of sentences and lots of descriptive adjectives.

Reading

The Booktrust offers lots of lovely interactive books to read online or watch with signing. You can also choose from a range of languages.

<https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/have-some-fun/storybooks-and-games/>

After listening to a story, ask your child to retell the story in their own words and talk about their favourite part. Ask who, what, why, where questions to support comprehension skills. They could also draw pictures or write about why they liked a particular book or part of a story.

Above all, read for enjoyment! 😊

Learning Opportunities –

So Much by Trish Cooke

- Create a card: - Design a card for someone in your family. It can be a birthday card, thank you card or a card to tell someone how much they love them!
- Draw a portrait
Draw a portrait or picture of a family member from real life, a photo or memory. You could draw a collection and make a little folded paper book.
- Learn a bedtime rhyme
You can learn a bedtime rhyme together, using a favourite book of rhymes.

Counting in 10's Activities

Can you count in tens to find how many books there are in 4 piles?

How many piles would there be if you had 70 books?
Count in 10s to help you:

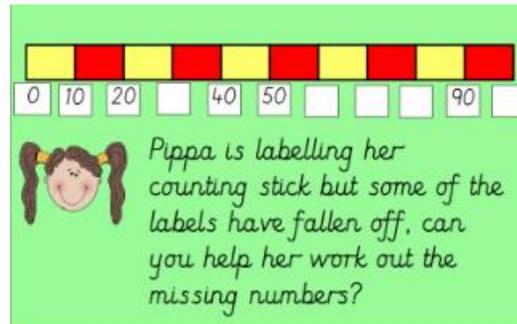

A box of pencils holds 10 pencils.

Can you count in tens to work out how many there are in total?

Can you write a repeated addition number sentence for each pictorial representation?

Can you continue the pattern? What number comes after 40? What is 10 more than 20? What is 10 more than 60? What is 10 less than 60?

What pattern have you noticed when you count in multiples of 10? What do these numbers end in?

Art

Can you draw a self portrait?

Which materials you will use to draw?

What colours do you need?

Can you find different materials around the house to help?
