LQ: Can I publish my work?

Steps to Success

I can publish my work
I can include the 'must haves'
I can improve my work

We are going to continue use our work from last week to create our final published piece of writing. Published writing means to write your best and final piece with hardly any mistakes. Copy your edited work with your updated corrections.

Final published writing

Hooray! Last Saturday we got to go ice skating we went to the rink and rented skates. Then we hit the ice. I had to hold Mr V's hand because I'm not very good. We had such a great time. I can't wait until we go again.

Let's mark these together

 i am writing a Letter to tell you  That I am overjoyed! I love that I'm your favourite crayon for wizard hats, grapes and  jrakns but it Makes me crazy that you colour outside of the lines. All my beautiful colour goes outside the lines and I'M GOING TO LOSE IT!

Task

CT to model expectations using their edited work example on a published work sheet.

When published work has been completed, an 'I am proud of my work because' sticker should be stuck in each child's book.

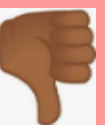

Choose one of these or think of your own reason as to why you are proud.

- This is the first letter you have written
- Your handwriting is neat.
- You used all the must haves
- You have used good vocabulary

LQ: Can I understand the importance of illustrations?

Steps to Success

I know what the term 'illustrator' means.

I know why illustrations are important.

I can create my own illustration.

I can ensure my illustration matches my text.

An illustrator's job is just as important as the author. The author writes the story but the illustrator create the pictures that go with the story.

Do you look at the pictures when you are reading a story?

Oliver Jeffers

He is the illustrator of 'The Day The Crayons Quit'

TPs – What does an illustrator do?

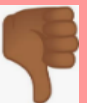

Does this make sense? Does the illustration match the text? TPs – Why/Why not?

The Gingerbread Man has a flat brown body made out of gingerbread. He has two round colourful buttons in the middle of his body. The Gingerbread Man has thin red lips and a large wide smile. He has two round eyes and a large curved head. The Gingerbread Man is funny and delicious. He wears a white squiggly belt across the middle of his waist. The Gingerbread Man can run super quick. He can outrun anybody. He was too trusting of that sly old fox.

Self Assessment

Do you understand the importance of illustrations?

An illustrator's job is to also help the reader imagine what is happening/ understand the character's thoughts and feelings.

TPs- Which illustration matches the text? How do you know?

Dear DUNCAN,
It has been great being your
FAVOURITE colour this PAST year.
And the year before. And the YEAR before ~~the~~ THAT!
I have really enjoyed all those OCEANS, LAKES, RIVERS, raindrops, rain CLOUDS and
CLEAR skies.
But the BAD NEWS is that
I am so short and stubby,
I can't even see over the railing in the CRAYON BOX anymore!
I need a BREAK!
Your very stubby friend,
Blue Crayon

TPs- Which illustration matches the text? How do you know?

Dear Duncan,
I'm tired of being called
"light brown" or "Dark tan"
because I am neither.
I am BEIGE and I am proud.
I'm also tired of being second place to Mr Brown Crayon.
It's not fair that Brown gets all the bears, ponies and puppies while the only things I get are turkey dinners (if I'm lucky) and wheat, and let's be honest -
when was the last time you saw a kid excited about colouring wheat?

Your BEIGE friend,
Beige Crayon

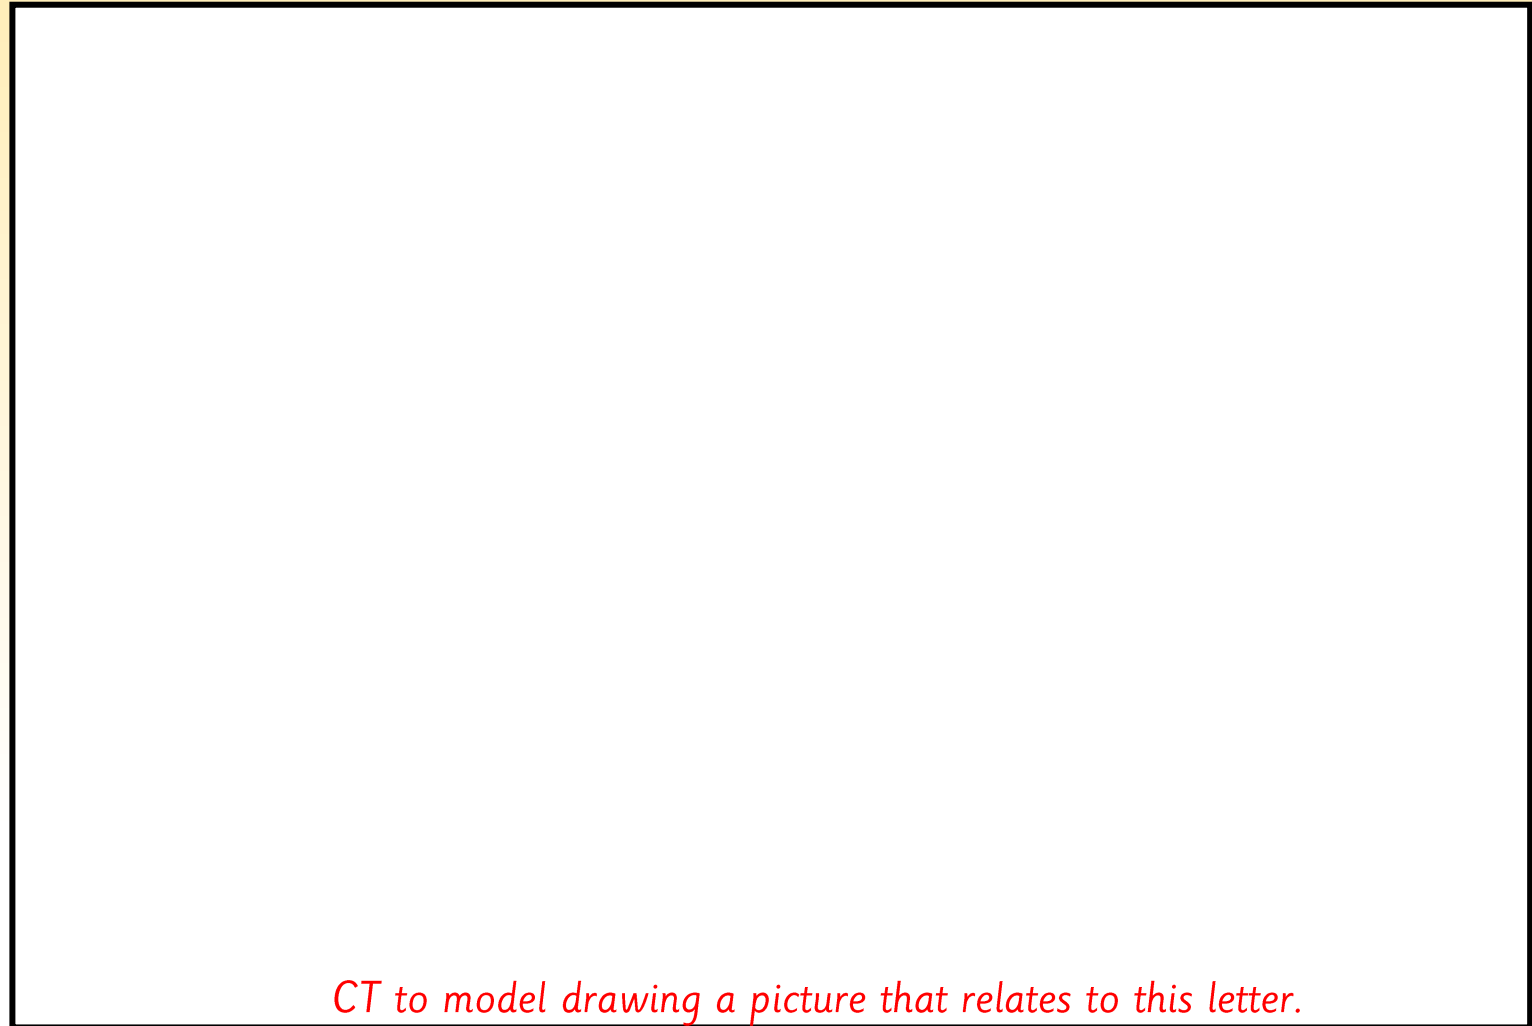

TPs – How should I draw my picture to ensure that it matches the text?

How can I portray how the character is feeling?

Dear Duncan,
As Green Crayon, I am writing for TWO reasons. One is to say that I like my work-loads of crocodiles, trees, dinosaurs and Frogs. I have no problems and wish to congratulate you on a very successful "colouring things GREEN" career so far.
The second reason I write is for my friends, Yellow Crayon and Orange Crayon, who are no longer speaking to each other. Both crayons feel THEY should be the colour of the sun. Please settle this soon because they're driving the rest of us CRAZY!
Your happy friend, Green Crayon

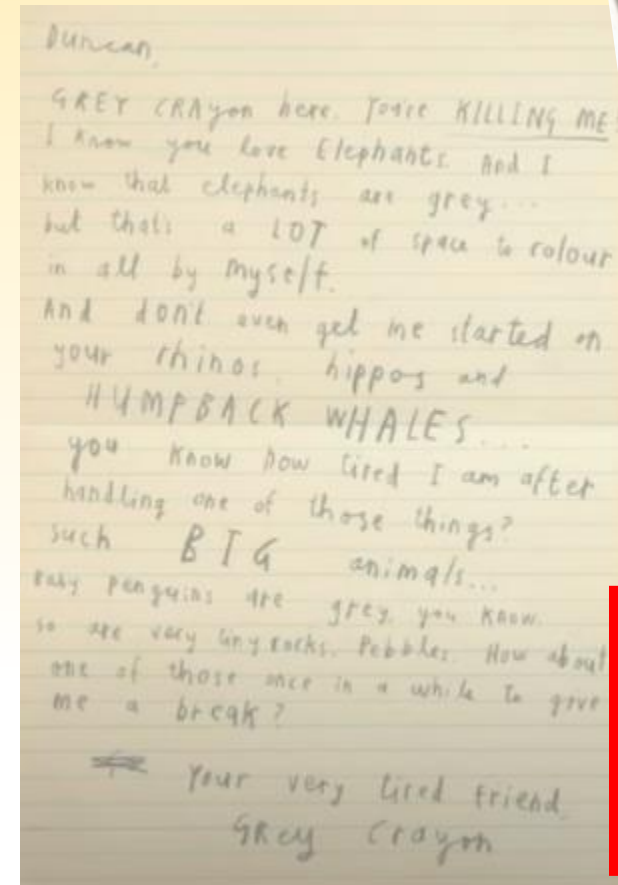

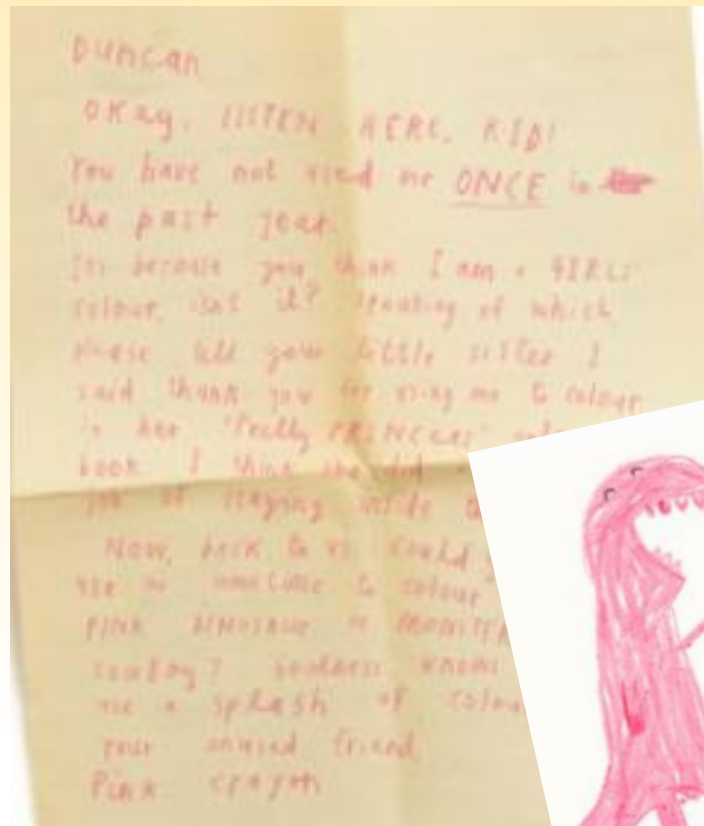

CT to model drawing a picture that relates to this letter.

Task

Draw an illustration to match your letter.

In the story, Duncan normally uses his colours to colour things the 'right' colour.

Talk Partners

What does colouring the right colour mean? Do the children always colour their drawings in the 'correct' colour? If not, why do they sometimes choose to use a different colour?

Why does Duncan's teacher says he is more 'creative' when he decides to use the colours in unusual ways?

Task

Like Duncan, you are going to create a picture thinking about all the things the crayons said.

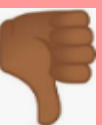

TPs – Will I use black for just the outline? Why? Why not?

TPs- Will I use blue for sky? Why? Why not?
