Ben's mummy was worried when she saw the tablet because you can use the internet on it.

TP: Why would Ben's mum be worried about him going on the internet?

I'm worried you a tablet!

She decided to let Ben keep the tablet, and he promised to come to her if he was worried about anything he saw on the tablet.

Ben's mummy put child-safe apps on his new tablet and he had lots of fun playing games and watching videos on it.

Suddenly, an advert for a new game appeared. There was an arrow Ben could press to download the game.

Should Ben press the arrow?

TP: What should Ben do?

Ben decides to ask his mummy.

Ben's Mummy came quickly and looked at Ben's tablet. She told Ben that the advert was for a game for older children and that it would not be fun for Ben.

Later that night, Ben was having lots of fun playing a game online against one of his friends from school.

Ben was shocked and didn't know what to do. He didn't know this person but he didn't want to be unkind and say they couldn't play the game.

Suddenly a message from someone Ben didn't know appeared on the screen. It said "Hello, can I play too?"

Ben asked his mummy if he should say yes. He didn't want to seem unkind by not letting this person play with him.

Would you play a game with an adult stranger in the park?

TP: Do you think Ben should let the person play with him?

Ben knew that you should never talk to strangers, and his mummy told him it was the same on the internet.

Only message and play games with people that you know on the internet.

I should only talk to people online that I know, not strangers!

Ben and his mummy decided to make some Internet safety rules for him to use with his tablet,

Internet Safety Rules

Always ask a grown-up for help if you see anything strange or unusual.

Don't download or install anything without asking a grown-up first.

Remember, not all games and videos are for children.

Don't talk to strangers online and don't tell them where you live.

If you are ever unsure what to do, remember you can always ask a grown up for help!
